WAR OF 1812.
Pensions, Pensions.
A law has just passed giving a Pension of $12 per year to all Soldiers of the War of 1812, who served 14 days, or were in any engagement, and their widows, also, are entitled to the same pension. Application can be made to me in person at my office in Bangor, or by letter. The earlier the application the better for the applicant.

1812.
Congress has just passed a law giving a Pension of $8 per month to all Soldiers of the War of 1812, who served 14 days or were in a battle—and the same pension to the widows of all such soldiers.
Who entitled all to a Pension who have received Land Warrants.
All entitled to the pension can obtain it, by applying to me in person at my office, or by letter.
I have all the old Rolls, on which is borne the names of all soldiers of the war of 1812, with dates and length of service and date of discharge, and all facts; and can give full and exact information in every case.
Also a record of most of the Land Warrants granted to these soldiers.
No person east of Portland, has these rolls, except myself and A. J. Chapman, Bangor, Maine.

WHEAT RAISING.
Mr. H. Chauncy, of Berkshire Co., Mass says he has raised many different kinds of spring wheat but has always had the best success with the Red Lost Mennan, and has not failed, but one year in twenty of getting a good crop, yielding from twenty to thirty-five bushels to the acre. The one failure in getting a good crop was caused, by a sand rain storm. When the wheat was in blossom, which lasts all day, if the weather is favorable, it will not fill. Has not for the past two years been troubled with either rust, mildew, or midge. And says: "I always prepare my wheat before sowing, by soaking it in strong brine, from twelve to twenty-four hours, which is a sure preventive for smut. My land is, in part, dry and gravelly, full of small flat stones, or mostly loam, will clay bottom. Whenever I can raise a good crop of corn or potatoes there I am sure of a good crop of wheat the next season. I think the Mediterranean wheat will yield the most flour to the bushel, and the whitest of any wheat I have ever raised. My practice is to sow early and harvest when the kernel is quite soft. About five bushels of good, clean plump wheat, if right ground, will make one barrel of the best flour, and you have the middlings and bran left. Supposing your average crop of wheat is twenty-five bushels per acre, you save five barrels of flour, which at $8 per barrel gives you $40. If sowed to oats, the average crop is fifty bushels per acre, at fifty cents per bushel, brings you twenty-five dollars and you have straw, instead of forty dollars with you middlings, bran and straw.
Perhaps, I should say right here, that we have a great mill near by, where they grind a large amount of Western wheat, and the owner understands his business, so that we get a good flour from our own wheat, as we can buy it by the barrel or sometimes much better. There are very many reasons why farmers should raise their own wheat, certainly if they can get it ground right. But don't carry your wheat to the mill with one-third foul seed and one-third rot dung, and then find fault with the mill or because he don't make good flour. Clean and screen your screenings. I tell you it pays. One thing more. I have no wheat to sell, for I have just had it ground into flour, and better flour is seldom, if ever made into bread.

ABOUT BASQUE.
After examining a great number of refined and fresh-looking costumes from the best Parisian houses, several small yet important details about the basque have impressed themselves. First among these are new ways of giving the square effected the front of the waist by very simple trimming. Thus the new-fashioned silk or silk and wool unlached bread is put in two straight rows down the front, be gaining, the collar just outside of the buttons and button-holes. Quantity cutters and very narrow. Send measures and description of case as nearly as possible. Price $4.00 per square. Sample 4 cents. Send stamp.

A BAD MISTAKE.—A mistake recently happened in a church at Syracuse, N. H., which has been much afflicted in its two last pastors, one of whom has died and the other become disabled that he has gone south to pass the winter. At a prayer meeting one of the brethren who had just received a letter from the absent minister rose to report, but by a singular infirmity got the deceased pastor's name into the place of the debilitated one, and remarked: "He says the weather is very warm—indeed, decidedly and uncomfortably warm in that locality."

Two heads are better than one, but a hat en's point of view.

It is strange how crowded two young men will make the largest parlor seem on Sunday evening.

A Frenchman intending to compliment a young lady by calling her a gentle lamb, said, "She is one mutton as is small."

"Am those socks all one scent?" inquired a lady of a juvenile salesman. "No, ma'am, they are all ten cents," replied the innocent youngster.

An editor published a long leader on hogs. A rival paper in the same village upbraids him for obtruding his family matters before the public.

A weak female will berate a man for letting her stand up in a horse car, and she will then dance from ten o'clock till two. This shows that dancing is better than standing up.

When a woman makes up her mind that a low shall not set, and the low makes up her mind that she will, the freedmen meets the immovable, and every law of nature is broken or perverted.

Sorrows.—Every burden of sorrow seems like a stone hung around our necks yet they are often like the stones used by the pearl divers, which enable them to reach the prize and to rise enriched.

STATE NEWS.

Androscoggin.

Mr. Whitehouse of Auburn, has contracted to build a wing of brick 23 by 65 feet, adjacent to the waiting room section of the ex street Maine Central Railroad depot. The new wing is to be finished for an eating house for the use of patrons of the road. The noon trains will probably stop at Lewiston station for dinner as soon as the dining hall is finished, which will probably be early in the summer.

Aroostook.

The Sunrise says: "Last Monday we had another severe snow storm with a fall of about a foot of snow. It was the most severe storm of the season. The train for Caribou which should have reached there Monday night at 8 P. M did not arrive until Tuesday at 7 A. M. Returning it was about three hours late out of Fort Fairfield.

At the annual town meeting at Fort Fairfield last Monday the following officers were elected: Moderator, Jesse Drew 3d; Selectmen, Assessors, and Overseers of Poor, N. Fessenden, R. Ed Baker, F. Thurlough; Treasurer, Jere F. Hacker; Supervisor of Schools, Nelson H. Marin; Constable, C. A. Libby; S. Hall; Collector. O. M. Mills. The following sums were voted by the town: Schools, $1,310.40, Poor, $1,000.00; Town Expenses, $1,000.00; Free High School, $250.00; Roads and Bridges, $4,000.00 Labor; Collector to have 8 cents and ½ mills for collecting.

Cumberland.

Mr. Frank Snow living on the Durham road, sometime since hired a man by the name of E. L. Crockett to work for him. Recently during Mr. Snow's absence on a visit to the house, Crockett, among other things and decamped. His whereabouts being ascertained, Mr. Charles Crossen in was sent to Rockland where he arrested Crockett and brought him back to Brunswick where he was lodged in the jail lockup. On Sunday night during the fire the fellow broke out, escaped, and has not been since heard from.

The Advertiser says: S. S. Rose & Son of Portland have on sale a stock of genuine Christian charity in providing, at their own expense, a public ambulance. There is no necessity any longer for people, badly hurt, to be dumped into hay wagons, or carried in carts, or loaded into box wagons, or doubled into hacks, and people desperately sick may be moved with comparative comfort. The ambulance provided by the Messrs. Rose is the thing used in the States. It is easy that it is provided with much easier springs, and a couch is fitted up for the occupants. A vehicle of this kind has long been wanted, and the Messrs. Rose are entitled to public thanks for providing it.

The horse of Capt. Samuel R. Stackpole of Falmouth Foreside was daubed with black paint by some miscreant on Monday night or Tuesday night. The paint was mixed with nothing better to do. The owner offers a reward of $100; for the detection of the rascals.

His son escaped uninjured. The horse freed himself from the wagon and ran to Gardiner before he was stopped.

The Advertiser says that the verdict in the famous Lorrabee case gives general satisfaction in Belgrade where all the facts connected with the affair are well known. If any one believes in the medical theory presented by the defense that they would but have seen the murdered woman, bruised and beaten as she was, their faith in the belief that she died with the disease which the defense claimed, would have suddenly vanished.

WHY HE DIDN'T EAT HER.—They tell of an Alabama clergyman who remarked confidentially to a parish once that with him married his wife, twenty years before, she was pretty enough to eat; "and," he added, "I've often regretted since that I didn't eat her, only I suppose from mere force of habit, he'd have disagreed with me."

THE HALIFAX AWARD.

[From the New York Tribune, March 29.]

In bringing the Halifax award to the attention of the Senate, Mr. Blaine made two important statements; first, that our Government would in the end probably pay it; and secondly, that if the British Government were in our place, they would refuse to pay, and base their refusal both on the law and on the equity of the case. Judging from the expressions of English and Canadian opinion quoted by Mr. Blaine, it must be confessed that he had good grounds for his declaration as to the probable course of the British Government in the supposed reversal of positions. Since Mr. Blaine's reference to the opinions of the London Times, we have turned to a file of that paper, and find its position in July last singularly the reverse of that which it has taken since the award. We quote the following from a carefully prepared editorial in the Times of July 6th:

"The long promised Commission for the settlement of the Canadian and United States fisheries question has been constituted, and has commenced proceedings in earnest. Its first sittings were held at Halifax on the 25th of last month, and a statement of the Canadian case was handed in. The reply on the part of the United States is due at the end of the present week. * * * It is a little provoking, at this distance of time to find fresh proofs of the carelessness with which the Treaty of Washington was drawn, upon one side with one most important branch of the duties in question the Commission, it seems, has been given no power to interfere directly, while on every point that comes before it for decision, the unanimous consent of all its members is, by the terms of the treaty, necessary. Before an authoritative verdict can be given. Of the three Commissioners, one is an Englishman, one is a citizen of the United States and the third is a Belgian. Supposing two of these were to assess the small payment by the United States at something like the amount of the Alabama Claims. Is it likely that the third would consent? and is it not possible that the United States Government would repudiate, as being a sheer right to do, the decision of a mere majority? The liability of the United States is not thus easily to be secured. We shall have first to convince the United States Commissioner, and he may possibly be a little deaf to arguments which seem clear enough to the others."

In the same issue the Times publishes a carefully prepared letter from its correspondent at Halifax, and the editor especially calls attention to what the correspondent says. We quote from the correspondent:

"When dealing with the Alabama claims the Washington Treaty expressly declared (Article VI) "that all questions considered by the Tribunal, including the final award, should be decided by a majority of the arbitrators." By a strange oversight in dealing with the fisheries question the treaty makes no such provision, but simply provides (Article XXIII) for the appointment of three Commissioners, who are to determine the sum to be paid under Article XXII. If the Commissioners are to adhere, therefore, to the letter of the treaty, no point decided by only a majority need be binding.

"It seems that neither the high legal authority, speaking through the columns of the London Times, nor its correspondent, writing from the very midst of the lawyers who represented the English and Canadian case at Halifax, ever for a moment thought that the arbitration was to proceed according to the canons of civil law. By this rule the majority of the arbitrators must decide. But the English authorities lay down a distinctly different rule as prevailing under the common law, and it seems that contemporaneous interpretations, both in England and Canada, fully maintain the legal position assumed by Mr. Blaine. One of the most eminent of American publicists denies the assertion that the civil law should govern in international controversies between two nations entirely under the dominion of the common law, and both entire strangers to the civil law. When the President lays the award before Congress, we shall take occasion to submit some views urging its payment, but upon considerations wholly apart and distinct from the grounds we have been discussing. It must be paid, but not because the letter of the law requires it, or because the award, viewed simply as a verdict on the case submitted, represents in any sense the quantum merui."

[Tribune, March 30.]

"Another aspect of the Halifax Commission is exhibited this morning. Ex-Secretary Fish details to a Tribune reporter the various circumstances leading to his final acceptance of a Commissioner whom he had at first persistently rejected. In effect, he was wearied with the long delay, anxious to close the matter during his term of office, and afraid unless he accepted M. Delfosse, we might have to take a worse man. We had objected to M. Delfosse: the English had pertinaciously adhered to him; if the two Governments failed to agree the choice was left to the Austrian Ambassador of Great Britian; and Mr. Fish thought we might better, after all, take M. Delfosse than run the risk of an appointment made by an Austrian in London, surrounded by English and Canadian influences. But he explains that he did not take the initiative in bringing up again the candidate he had so earnestly rejected, and that his letter to M. Delfosse was a matter of diplomatic courtesy, after that gentlemen had very promptly consented to serve."

It has been understood that Sir Edward Thornton supposed the initiative as to the final acceptance of the rejected candidate to have come from our Government; and it is not impossible that we may have some additional representations on this point. But the essential facts as to the business seem now established. (1) The British Government first suggested (in the Joint High Commission) that the representative of Belgium would be an unsuitable arbitrator. (2) Subsequently it proposed him. (3) The United States strenuously objected. (4) On the plea of necessary delays for consultation, the British Minister put off an answer till the time had almost expired. (5) Our Secretary of State protested, but with no result, and when the time did expire the British Government was still proposing the representative of Belgium. (6) At last, when the subject was again taken up, we accepted him. (7) He and the British Commissioner united in an award against us so unreasonable and out of relation to the facts as to be grotesque. (8) Our Commissioner voted against it. (9) Prior to this the Canadians and English had argued that the Commission must be unanimous to make its award binding. (10) Now they think the award binding without a unanimous vote, and some—not all—of our best publicists take the same view.

We are sure that when our State Department asks for an appropriation to pay this award, the money will be promptly voted. All the more, therefore, we ought to insist now on the utmost publicity as to all the steps of the strange transaction.

THE GENEVA AWARD. A Washington special states that the House Judiciary Committee on Friday took a preliminary vote on the Geneva Award case. An attempt will be made Monday next to obtain a final vote. This morning there were five votes for Frye's bill, five votes for McMahon's bill, which sends the subject to a Commission, and five votes for Culberson's bill, which leaves the subject with the courts to determine. Six voted for Culberson's bill, with the condition that the names of Companies shall never be paid for their losses. Hartridge of Georgia probably voted against the insurance companies and Harris to send the question to the courts. The general effect of the vote Friday was against the Insurance companies with the chances of two and possibly of three reports.

JANGLED.

One of the most striking exhibits is of "sweet bells jangled, out of tune," was afforded the other day by the two Administration organs in Boston, in their comments upon Senator Howe's speech. Both were very angry, and both were anxious to break the force of the Senator's arraignment, but they started their chorus in very different keys. The Journal banged away in this style:

His real grievance is personal, rather than public. He has been accustomed to fill the place of the President in making Federal appointments in Wisconsin. * * * It is said that his latest grievance is that he was not appointed Associate Justice of the Supreme Court instead of General Harlan. * * * The Senator, his course has not won him the respect and esteem of the party. The "spoils system" has created divisions in Wisconsin as in other States, and such dissensions have weakened it. Moreover, Senator Howe has lost the confidence of many excellent Republicans in his State by votes which they do not approve. He is accused of siding with a hand ring against Indian claims. * * * There is nothing in his public career of nearly eighteen years to make his utterances potent.

A more emphatic answer to this sort of "argument" could not have been given than the statement with which the Advertiser on the same day preluded its own attempted to parry the Senator's deadly thrusts at the "policies." The Advertiser said:

For ourselves we take this opportunity to say that Senator Howe, by his long and honorable public service, has earned the right to be heard by the matters which he chooses to discuss. And it is no answer to the charges he brings against the President and his ministers, gross, false and unjust as they are, to say that some of the friends of the accuser failed to get the offices they wanted, or that he himself is taking his revenge for the loss of a place on the supreme bench. These personal disappointments may have aggravated his dislike of the administration, but he is one of those who distrusted it from the beginning, and still honestly believes it is bent upon the ruin of the country.

CONCILIATED?

The Boston Journal gleefully trotted out the Richmond, Virginia, Despatch the other day, as one of the Southern birds on whose tail Mr. Hoar had succeeded in sprinkling the salt of conciliation, and cited, as a story of triumphant demonstration of the regenerated spirit of the ex-Confederates, the following Presidential "indorsement" by the Despatch:

"If President Hayes deserves not the applause of his countrymen there never lived a man who did.

Who wonders that the Massachusetts editor straightway fell upon the neck of that "conciliated" Virginia brother and ordered "fatted calf for two." But alas, for the tribulations of a doughface! Only a day or two later, in referring to the list of portraits assigned by Secretary Sherman to be engraved for the new silver certificates, which included, the portrait of Charles Sumner, that same Richmond Despatch puts forward another claim to the fraternal regards of Massachusetts by uttering these courteous and conciliatory words:

"Mr. Sherman must have put it into the list or heads as a sop of generosity to the Southern people. The list is also intensely Northern. Yet we can stand anything but Charles Sumner. He is abominable."

We fear the Boston Journal may overtook this chivalric response to its eager greeting of a new Administration ally.

PERSONAL ADMINISTRATION.

[From the Troy (N. Y.) Times.]

Perhaps time will vindicate President Hayes, as he seems to anticipate, but it seldom does as much for any man, who, holding intrusted with great responsibilities under a clear understanding of how he is to discharge them, turns around as soon as he is installed, snaps his fingers in the face of those who have reposed confidence in him and tells them that he intends to do what seems to be right in his own eyes, regardless of their wishes and of his own promises. It strikes us that such conduct smacks very strongly indeed of personal assumption. Had President Grant made such a remark as that attributed to President Hayes, a howl of indignation would have gone up of volume sufficient to fill the whole land with the uproar. It is President Hayes who speaks, and his sycophantic admirers, who were so bitter upon President Grant because of the alleged personal tendencies of his Administration, will have no word of complaint to utter.

We presume that it is a combination of ideal reform and conciliation which has required that the Democrats should control the Board of Assessors and of Assistant Assessors. Our Democratic neighbors are very quiet and modest, but they seem to have a very clear notion of what they are about. If any of our Republican citizens have failed to appreciate the significance of giving the Democrats control of the tax lists, we think they stand a chance of being enlightened about the time of our next election.

Representative Williams, of Wisconsin, who did not accompany the other Republican members of the delegation from that State in their visit to the President the other day, said to a newspaper man on Friday: "You are at liberty to say that Senator Howe did converse with me about his speech before its delivery, especially about that portion of it relating to the President's Southern policy, and that I did and do indorse his condemnation of that policy, because I believe that by it Republicanism was utterly given away, and that it is impossible for Republican principles to survive in their integrity upon any such plan. Had such a purpose been hinted at in our country in the preceding campaign we would have been beaten out of sight. I presume no one of the Wisconsin delegation knew anything of the drift of Senator Howe's speech; but I heard nothing of a move on the part of the delegation to dissuade him from delivering it. Personally I have no feeling against the Administration, for I have been treated with uniform kindness in all my intercourse with it, both personality and officially."

The Democratic House has voted out of his seat another legally elected Republican and put in his place a Democrat who was not elected at all. This is the third time they have committed this outrage in one session. They have done it each time in the face of protests from members of their own party, and have done it without seeking even a decent excuse for the step. They seated a man from Colorado who did not run for election on the day provided by law, but on a day picked out to suit himself, when he had no opposition. He had no more right to the seat than Dr. Mary Walker had. They seated a man from California who had been declared not elected by the Supreme Court of his own State and by the Democratic officials of that State's Government. The Massachusetts case is a fit companion for these. The country will have a chance to say next Fall how much more "reform" of this kind it can stand.—Tribune.

THE TILTON-BEECHER SCANDAL.

In an editorial paragraph referring to the recently published reports concerning the Tiltons, the N. Y. Tribune says:

Several days ago these rumors reached our office to the effect that Mr. Tilton and his wife had become reconciled, and that Mrs. Tilton had made a written confession. This was coupled with the further rumor that Samuel D. Morris, formerly Mr. Tilton's counsel, had made certain charges against his client. We investigated these reports thoroughly, and discovered that they were untrue. Mrs. Tilton declared in the strongest terms that she had made no statement, proposed none, and had not lately seen her husband, who was living in New York, while she resided in Brooklyn. Mr. Morris denies emphatically the story that he had resolved to denounce Tilton. All the evidence obtainable contradicted the rumors set afloat, and as they were scandalous as well as untrue we made no mention whatever of them. It only now remains to be said that there is no purpose on the part of any of the persons directly interested to raise again the unsavory controversy.

THE ROCKLAND STEEL SUIT.

The Jury Disagree.

ROCKLAND, March 30. At a quarter past 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon the libel case of Davis Tillson against the Rockland Opinion, went to the Jury who, after being out till 12:30 this morning, were allowed to separate, being unable to agree. The Jury came into court at 9 o'clock, this afternoon and were discharged. The case stands for new trial at the September term. The jury stood eight for the plaintiff to four for the defendant, and was composed of seven Democrats and five Republicans.

FROM LEWISTON.

Fire.

LEWISTON, March 31. A slight fire occurred in a building in Lisbon-st. owned by the Eastern Express Company, in rooms occupied by Sands & Co., printers. It was extinguished with buckets.

The Auburn Savings Bank.

The officers of the Auburn savings bank have called a meeting of the depositors to decide what action they will take. The bank is well managed and has saved a large amount of money. Its surplus, in gold and dollars surplus, yet nervous depositors have been making unusual drafts.

FROM WICHITA.

House Burned.

WICHITA, March 30. A house in Wichita, owned by Otis Smith, occupied by Jonathan Longfellow, was burned this morning. It was insured in the Etna for one thousand dollars; furniture for five hundred in the Home of New York.

DOMESTIC NEWS.

THE FISHERY AWARD.

Ex-Secretary Fish Interviewed -- The Award Exceeds his Expectations.

NEW YORK, March 30. In an interview with the Tribune relative to the fisheries commission, Ex-Secretary Fish states that he was loath to accept Delfosse, as President Grant had previously expressed belief in his intelligence and integrity, and also that he was further strongly influenced by the belief that it was possible that, unless the government rejected an undistinguished, Count Beust surrounded by British influences might appoint a Canadian or some prejudiced person under British influence. I had, however, no idea that an award of more than $500,000 or $400,000 could be had against the United States. I never regarded the inshore fisheries as of great commercial value; but I thought it very desirable that this cause of irritation should be permanently removed. I believe we had given the Canadians an equivalent, and that an award of a few hundred thousand would be rather for the purpose of soothing their feelings, than as a just compensation for the difference between concessions given and received.

RHODE ISLAND

Death of an Editor.

PROVIDENCE, March 31. Chas. B. Sretson of Malden, Mass., formerly connected with the N. Y. Express, Portland Advertiser and other newspapers, died at Newport to-day.

PENNSYLVANIA.

Mining Operations.

POTTSVILLE, March 30. A general resumption of mining operations will take place on Monday. The miners have had but one week's work during the month, which together with the general suspension of operations in Luzerne has caused great destitution. The announcement that 400,000 tons will be mined in the Schuylkill region during April is received with much rejoicing. That amount will give employment for over two weeks to all.

THE INDIANS.

Summer Campaign.

NEW YORK, March 30. Gen. Sheridan says he does not intend occupying the army of reserve between the Missouri and British line; but if Congress makes an appropriation for the post on Milk River, he would put a force there which could command the borders. At present the Yellowstone is to be made the line of defence against raiding Indians from Canada. The cavalry soon starts on its summer campaign with a roving commission to kill all fighting Indians. A cantonment of troops under Crook is to be established north of the Black Hills, from which expeditions and scouting parties will be sent out. They will be ordered to drive all Canadian half breeds back to their own side of the line, from whence they have been swarming lately.

WEST VIRGINIA.

Safe Robbed.

BALTIMORE, March 31. Jos. Aldt's safe in his store at Western Port, West Virginia, was broken open last night and robbed of $25,500 in money and $4,000 worth of railroad stock. No arrests.

ILLINOIS.

Resigned.

THE WEATHER.

WAR DEPT., OFFICE CHIEF SIGNAL OFFICER, Washington, D. C., April 1—(1 A. M.)

Indications.

CONDENSED DESPATCHES.

Cardinal McCloskey, presented General Grant to the Pope Saturday.

To the close of March $3,008,000 in silver in had been coined.

The body of John Weeks of New Salem, Mass., who has been missing nearly three weeks, was found Sunday in Wendell, about a mile from the house where he was last seen.

The Mexican redogmition question is likely to come before both Houses in a few days.

The Internal Revenue receipts for March show a falling off from the corresponding month of 1877 of over $1,900,000.

Arrangements have been completed under which during April the Philadelphia mint will turn out $1,750,000.

Great excitement exists at Bartlett, N. H., over the death of Dana Jewett, which occurred ten days ago. It is now thought to have been the result of poisoning. The body has been taken up and the stomach will be analyzed.

The Daily Telegraph positively asserts that Marquis of Salisbury will succeed Lord Derby as Secretary of Foreign Affairs.

The Horrors of War.

NEW YORK, March 30. A letter from Trebizond describes the suffering at Erzeroum consequent upon the lack of fuel, food and the crowded state of hospitals, etc. Thousands are without food and hundreds had died of starvation. Mr. Calef, the only American missionary there, is doing his utmost with the limited means at his disposal to feed the starving throng that daily crowd his rooms. He had 300 famil es on his relief list, with the prospect that it would soon be increased to 1,000.

An appropriat on of $1000 was received from the Turkish compassionate fund. The region has been thoroughly stripped and devastated by contending armies, during the past year. Many months, if not years, will be necessary to complete reconstruction, and the efforts of the benevolent should be continued for many months to come. Anyone can forward contributions to Rev. P. F. Bush, 30 Bible House, New York, or to L. S. Ward, Treasurer American Board of Congregational House, Boston.

Diplomacy Expl.

LONDON, March 30. The Pall Mall Gazette that evening printed an article entitled "New Turn of Events" in which, after reviewing the resignation of Derby, it says: "We fear that it must be assumed that diplomacy has said its last word. England and Russia are too distant ly committed to the positions which they have respectively assumed, to allow any withdrawal. The d fference is so essentially one of principle, that it is impossible for any third power to suppose, as acceptable compromise. The advance of the Russian troops to the Bosphorus and upon Gallipoli may be immediately expected." These words Gorschakoff quite calmly when it is remembered that the Pall Mal. Gazette is the property of the Right Hon. W. H. Smith, first Lor. of the Admiralty.

Expenditures of Greek Shipped From Russia on the Steamer.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 30. The Russian government has stopped the exportation of grain from Taganka and, Kustendje on the Danube.

LONDON, March 30. The correspondence submitted to Parliament relative to the proposed Congress confirms the statement that Austria, on the 19th of March, refused to support the demands of Shegan and urged the Congress. The papers also omitted also show that Prince Gortschakoff, on the 10th of March, informed Lofrus, the British Ambassador at St. Petersburg, that Russia would only accept of the Congress dissenting those portions of the treaty of San Stefano directly affecting Europe. On the 26th of March Gortschakoff refused to allow any discussion by the Congress relative to the cession of Bessarabia. A section of liberals will oppose the Queen's message calling out the reserves. The British fleet will soon enter the Bosphorus. All Vienna correspondents of London journals concur in the statement that Ignatieff's mission has failed.

The Times Vienna correspondent doubts whether Ignatieff has the power and will be able to so alter his map of Bulgaria as to suit the views there. But even should he succeed in this respect, the sign is mainly just in its concessions to the course of the administration, they can see no propriety in recalling past events in Louisiana and elsewhere, and of making a direct issue with the President, and they are also agreed that the so called Civil Service Reform is a deception and a failure. They therefore think the Republicans should strive to strengthen their party irrespective of what the President may say or do and they point to the late election in New Hampshire to show that increased in favor of the Republicans apart from any considerations connected with the National Administration.

They are of opinion that it would be better to approve of such measures as they can in the future rather than oppose the President for what has already been done by being in his Southern policy, the finance and other measures which do not meet with Republican approval. Besides to make an open issue with the President would benefit the Democratic party to the injury of the Republican party. They say they can do nothing, no matter what independent course the, Presi ent may think proper to pursue. At the same time they do not impute ill-feeling to the action of the President and see some things in his administration to approve, but they doubt the wisdom of much of his so-called policy. At a committee of conference held by the Senators heretofore, called on the President with regard to appointments, etc., and failed to come to an understanding, it is said the President used such language in a similar way, as the President says independently of Senatorial advice or conference. It is known that the President on that occasion regarded the civil service as a matter of no public interest and therefore he was not disturbed. Under all the circumstances the Republican Senators do not think it behoves them to take part against the President; but do the most they can for the interests of their party, remembering that the President has three more years to serve.

The English Reserves Called Out.

LONDON, March 30. The report of the March 4 of Salisbury as the successor to Derby is formally contradicted. Nobody has been designated yet. The following notice has been prepared for issue to the officers of the districts throughout the Kingdom: "Her Majesty having been graciously pleased to d rect by proclamation that the first class of the army reserve force be ordered out for seven months' service, all men belonging to said reserve are required to report at headquarters immediately, for the purpose of rejoining her army."

The Greek Insurgents.

ATHENS, March 30. An official telegram from Volo announces a fighting at Macrinl as between the insurgents and Turks. Several Turkish ships are bombarding the villages on the coast. The British iron clad Swiftsure, Devastation and the corvette Ruby are cruising along the coast of Macedonia for the purpose of reaching refugee women and children.

Kremlin Mines Explosion—Austria Not Join the Treaty of San Stefano.

VIENNA, March 31. Gen. Ignatieff left for St. Petersburg this forenoon. The semi-official Montags Review says that Gen. Ignatieff ascertained from Count Andrassy that Austria rejects the treaty of peace signed at San Stefano as a sibling with both her own and European interests. Count Andrassy also informed Gen. Ignatieff of Aus ria's interests with great exactness but Gen. Ignatieff being without power to conclude a ty arrangement whatever could only a dep. the situation and reverendum.

Rumors!

PARIS, March 31. A special to La Patrie from Vienna says a rumor is current there that the immediate mobilization of 400,000 men on the frontier has been ordered.

La Temps Vienna despatch reports that a consequence of a demonstration in the Hungarian Diet on Saturday, when an allusion to an understanding with England was made, it was cheered.

M. Tisza, Chief of the Hungarian Ministry, has been summoned to Vienna.

England's Belief.

LONDON, April 1. The standard's correspondent at Berlin says in consequence of Austria's refusal to come to an arrangement with Russia it is believed Gortschakoff has already informed Lord Loftus that Russia is ready to yield to England's demand in regard to the Congress.

LONDON, March 31. The Paris papers publish a telegram from Athens stating that a rumor is current there that Mogland has ordered part of his fleet and a considerable force of marines to proceed to Greek territory.

A Russian Threat.

A special to the Standard, dated Constantinople Friday, states that the English fleet has orders to withdraw if the Russians will occupy Constantinople with the approval of the Sultan.

Turkey's Attitude.

The same correspondent understands that Mr. Layard, in conference with Ignatieff on from the British government has asked the Porte what its attitude would be in the event of an Anglo-Russian war. Prince Gortschakoff said that if the Congress made any alterations in the treaty, they would be subject to further arrangement between Russia and Turkey. Russia could only accept the discussion of those points of the treaty affecting Bessarabian interests. Sir Henry Elliot, British Ambassador at Vienna, telegraphed to Derby the 2nd inst., that he was trustworthily informed that Gortschakoff told the Roumanian agent at St. Petersburg that Russia would not allow the question of the cession of Bessarabia to be discussed by the Congress.

Russia will Defend Her Position by Arms.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 30. The Journal de St. Petersburg publishes an article, believed to be semi-official, on England's attitude. Referring to Beaconsfield's speech of Thursday, the article says: The balance of power in the Mediterranean is only threatened by the presence of the British fleet in the Sea of Marmora, and England's possession of Gibraltar and Malta. After calling out of the reserves, notwithstanding the statement that it does not imply war, is another step to the path of provocation. Russia has fulfilled all her promises. Adopted the Berlin Treaty. Has left San Stefano a stipulation clashing with the interest of others, or injuriously affecting them by its reservations. Russia is conscious of having neglected nothing to secure to the East an era of prosperity, and to Europe long years of peace. She will deeply deplore aberrations which may counteract her pacific work; but if she is attacked she will defend her position by arms.

GREAT BRITAIN.

The Silver Market.

LONDON, March 30. The Times' financial article says that in the silver market the activity of the last four days has disappeared, and is followed by a slight reaction. It is believed that the recent large American export is now completed, and this stoppage with the unfavorable turn of politics, has caused the market to be quite stagnant. Silver 51¾.

BRAZIL.

Horrible Sufferings from Yellow Fever and Starvation.

NEW YORK, March 30. Letters from Rio Janeiro to the 4th inst. state that the yellow fever deaths are fifteen daily. Mrs. Duncan, wife of the assembly clerk and master of the squadron, has died. The sufferings of sealers in the northeast are reported as horrible from drought and starvation. A family there killed, cooked and ate a two year old child, from the effects of which the father died. A case of yellow fever in Montevideo has caused a panic. Deaths in quarantine at Buenos Ayres. The leg disease is killing many cattle in Uruguay.

A large proport on of the American people are to-day dy ng from the effects of Dyspepsia or disordered liver. The result of these diseases upon the masses of intelligent and valuable persons is truly astonishing, not only lit ss actually a burde; instead of a pleasant existence of enjoyment and usefulness as it ought to be, there is an unbearable weight of misery. The presents were distributed as advertised and this morning with his company he goes to Waterville where he will give three entertainments.

THE RAILROAD EXTENSION. Wednesday, Col. C. H. Chandler, of Brownville, and Mr. Burpee, Civil Engineer, were in Dexter looking at the lay of the land in connection with the proposed extension of the railroad to Dover or Foxcroft. We understand that they were more favorably impressed with that route while, has already been traced out, than with any others that have been suggested. This route is the one up Main street, back of Dunn's store and foundery, and on across the pond near the dam. A survey of the route is to be made immediately.

CORNISH EVENTS. The following is a list of diseases and menagerie which will pitch their tents when pulmonal fame and indecent lemonade are fashionable. Those which travel by rail are: Cole's circus, menagerie and museum, which will start from St. Louis; Barnum's show, under the proprietorship of Messrs. P. T. Barnum, Bailum, Hard, Jone and Bai ey, will start from New York city; the London circus, owned by Messrs. Parker, Davis and Cooper, and afterwards settled in Dexter, where he remained a number of years, and then moved to this city. He has been twice married and had five children by the first wife. The second wife and two sons, Capt. Samuel Knowles, of San Francisco, and Percey Knowles, Esq., of Webster City, Iowa, and the three daughters, who reside in Boston survive him.

He went out as Colonel of the Sixth Maine Regiment, in which command he was succeeded by Col. Hiram Burnham, of Cherryfield, who was promoted to a Brigadier General, and fell at the head of his brigade at the battle of Chapin's Bluff.

The deceased had been in law practice here more than a quarter of a century, and was regarded as one of the most effective criminal lawyers in the State. He had a rare gift of language and was very eloquent as a pleader before juries. Possessed of brilliant intellectual powers, unfortunate infirmities of habit prevented him from reaping the highest distinctions at the Bar of Maine. Personally he was of a genial and kindly though retiring disposition, and has left few if any who would speak a harsh word concerning him, while his pleasing traits will be remembered by many who have known him at his best.

OBITUARY.

Mr. Jacob C. Smith, one of the oldest of our Bangor merchants, and the last surviving member of his father's family died in this city on Saturday morning last, after a paralytic illness of over two years. Mr. Smith was born in that part of Hallowell, now Manchester, Aug. 16th, 1809. When about nine years old he went with his parents to Bath, where he was brought up in the grocery business in his father's store. He came to this city in 1832 and commenced the grocery and provision trade in a little store where Kendrskeag block now stands. The first entry on his book was Aug. 17th—a charge to Eli & J. Hoyt (Edmund and John Hoyt, the well known truckmen of that day.)

The next year, 1833, he formed a partnership with Mr. Benjamin Parsons, which continued two or three years. Mr. Smith was then alone two or three years, when he formed the business connection with Mark L. Hill, which continued about ten years until Mr. Hill's death. Subsequently he was associated several years with the late Joseph S. Stetson. In March, 1860, he formed with Mr. A. M. Campbell, the well known firm of Smith & Campbell which has continued ill t epresent time, although Mr. Smith retired from active par ticipation in trade in April 1876, a few months after he was prostrated by disease.

Mr. Smith, with a brief interruption was actively engaged in the wholesale and retail grocery and provision trade for forty-four years, maintaining an unimpeached mercantile credit during the whole period, and by his strict attention to business and commercial shrewdness accumulating a handsome property. The ranks of his contemporaries when he commenced business in this city are rapidly disappearing. Within a few months we have chronicles the decease of Ansel Leighton, Sumner Chalmers, Jason Weeks, Seth Emery and George Reynolds.

Mr. Smith's first wife was Miss Eliza A. Mitchell of Bath. Is second wife, Mrs. Harriet Bradbon, survives him. His only other heir is an adopted daughter wife of Capt. John Cushing, who is now with her husband in the ship Oregon at the Chincha Islands.

LOOK ONLY An exchange says: Long sealons, resembling swallow-tail coats, and flowing light vests, will be a favorite design for walking suits. Short dresses are to be worn this season. Don't you remember the short skirts swinging clear of the pavement by at least two inches, the long, round overskirt, wrinkled in front and slightly draped at the back, and the close-fitting basque? Well, we've prepared to sell at bottom prices. A few of these same things this season, or those ladies to whom he will suit, is unbecoming, or who possibly may not fancy the set style of it. Sometimes, in place of the basque, the cut-away jacket and vest are used. The princesse is, indeed the foundation of all the skirts which have followed it, except the kilt suit. The basque is close fitting, the skirt cut close back over a narrow underskirt, which is finished at the edge with a full pleating. In some cases the pocket also is used.

ST. NICHOLAS.

SCRIBNER'S ILLUSTRATED MAGAZINE FOR GIRLS AND BOYS.

The LONDON ACADEMY, of December 22d, 1877, says, "In ST. NICHOLAS *we possess the best illustrated literature that we have yet seen. * * * We have no hesitation in saying that Mr. Scribner's Magazine has no rival."*

In ST. NICHOLAS for December, the Grand Christmas Number, was begun a charmingly new

Serial Story by Miss Alcott

"Under the Lilacs," illustrated by MARY HALLOCK FOOTE, to continue during the year. This same Christmas number, of which one hundred thousand copies were printed, contained the opening chapters of a "RUNAWAY CRUSOE" STORY for boys, "Tower-Mountain," by GUSTAVE FRANKENSTEIN, also poems by LONGFELLOW, BRYANT, a portrait of Miss Alcott, half a dozen short stories, pictures, poems, etc., etc. It is the handsomest number of a child's magazine ever issued.

The NEW YORK TRIBUNE says:

"ST. NICHOLAS has a list of contributors such as no other child's magazine, or few publications of any sort in the world can boast. It has caused the best writers in America to turn their attention to the task of giving delight and imparting culture to children. In the avalanche of immoral literature that threatens to bury the young, strongly, vitally, religious, and really attractive magazine is required for them, and ST. NICHOLAS has reached a higher platform, and commands for the service wider resources in art and letters, than any of its predecessors, or conceivable rivals."

ST. NICHOLAS FOR 1878,

Besides the SERIAL STORIES above announced, will have a short serial story by the author of The Schonberg-Cotta Family; and THREE SPLENDID SERIALS FOR BOYS, one of which "DRIFTED INTO PORT," by EDW. H. ROBERTS, an English writer, will begin in March. Another will the world in a Yacht, Boys!" has been promised by a brilliant writer, now on the second tour of the world in his own yacht. There will be contributions by a daughter of the famous Peter Parley, and a letter to young Americans by GEORGE MACDONALD.

The "HOW" series of instructive papers, by various authors, will tell HOW to bind your own books; HOW they mine coal; HOW to enjoy ourselves at home; HOW to be an agreeable guest; HOW to preside at a tea party; HOW to be a carpenter; HOW to make an ice-boat; HOW to build a house; How India rubber is gathered; HOW matches are made; HOW to be a Parlor Magician; HOW money is made; HOW mackerel are caught; HOW they lay the Atlantic cable; HOW they mine in California; HOW they work in the ice-country; etc. There will be stories of stories and sketches of Foreign Life, such as "Old Nicolin" (a Russian story), "A Day among the Welsh Castles," "Easter in Germany," "The Indians of the Amazon," "How Kite was lost in a Turkish Bazar," "Wonder Mountain" (a Mexican story), "Hansa, the Lapp Maiden," and many others.

TRAVEL AND ADVENTURE,

"Jack-in-the-Pulpit," "Young contributors' Department," "Letter-Box," "Riddle Box," and "For Very Little Folks," will be continued.

NOTICES OF THE PRESS.

The Viennese Hygeine, which long ago outgrew its original title of the "Journal of Sanitary Engineering," has not in the least abated the popularity it won at the outset, but has added to it in many ways, and has kept nearly abreast of the times, thanks to the enterprise of its publishers and the tact and wisdom of its editors. For whatever is best and most readable in the pages of Harper's Monthly, and Harper's Weekly, has an appearing as fresh to the reader of a quarter of a century ago as it is to the more intimate reader of to-day, and the same freshness and studied variety in its editorial departments now as then.—Boston Journal.
